

-- SUMMER 2011 CREDIT FIELD COURSE --

Colorado Ecosystem Field Studies k-12

Teacher training opportunity

 Study and camp in the beautiful foothills of the Rocky Mountains ***

 Earn 4 graduate level teacher relicensure credits through CO School of Mines ***

 Learn how to incorporate environmental field research methods into classroom teaching

 Investigate key concepts of the Colorado Front Range ecosystem with connections to academic content standards in:

Life Science, Earth Science, & Geography *

at the private 1,200 acre
Cal-Wood Education Center (near Jamestown, CO, 1 hr nw of Denver, 1/2 hr nw of Boulder)

Field Trips

July 23 - 31

For a full course syllabus visit www.coefs.org

"Excellent course! My teaching has been refreshed with countless new ideas that connect ecosystem studies to my classroom and my mind & body are refreshed with the pristine mountain air"